Dear Counsel:

RE: Leo Pharma Inc. v. Teva Canada Limited et al.
Court File No: T-1791-13

This is to advise of the following Direction of Madam Prothonotary Mireille Tabib dated June 8, 2015:

“On its face, the Memorandum of the Applicant still does not comply with the Rules, as most pages have “more than 30 lines, exclusive of headings”, if one counts the footnotes, which are not headings. Margin discrepancies were further admitted by the Applicant. Given the Respondent’s objections and the prima facie non-compliance, the revised memorandum cannot be accepted for filing and will be returned to the Applicant. To the extent the Applicant disagrees with this direction, it may make a motion for directions as to the acceptance of the record; the Applicant may also, instead of or in addition, make such motion as it feels appropriate to relieve it from compliance, to extend the time for filing, for leave to file a memorandum exceeding 30 pages and/or any other relief the Applicant may propose.”

Yours truly,

C.C.
